15. ADDRESS,.....By THOMAS C. HOWARD, Esq.

16. MUSIC.

THE SUNNY HOUR'S HAVE FLED.

The sunny hours have fled,
With all their golden sheen;
Dim shadows now with spectral tread,
Glide o'er this parting scene.

How changed the future now—
The landscape fades away,
Which fancy painted on the brow
Of this long wished for day.

The sun-lit hills, which erst
Their gleaming tops displayed,
Tinged with smiling light at first,
Are mantled now with shade.

Hope still renews her dream;
The light of freedom's day,
So often wished and wooed, shall gleam
Upon our darkened way.

Farewell! we part to tread
Life's thorny waste, 'tis true;
But e'er we journey far, we'll wed,
To smooth our passage through.

17. BENEDICTION.
